ALAC - LHASA APSO RESCUE ADOPTION APPLICATION

To speed up the adoption process: Please check with whomever your Regional
Representative is to find out who to send your application to. Contact your Regional
Representative, tell them where you live and ask them the address to use when sending this in (ONLY use the main rescue address if your Regional Representative tells you to OR there is no Regional Representative for your location).

Once you know where to send it, please print-out, complete all questions, sign and mail in to the contact your Regional Representative specified.

Please email Amy or Helen for information on where to send it, if there is no Regional Representative in your area. (this is ONLY if you couldn't fill out the electronic application)

| Do you understand that dogs bite out of fear and distrust? Unfortunately, they do not have hands to slap the face of that obnoxious stranger that is grabbing and touching them. The only way they have to protect themselves is with their teeth (answer yes or no)                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Although we do not take people-aggressive dogs into our program, we do accept abused and un-socialized dogs. These dogs often need work with temperament problems. How will you deal with behavior problems like snapping or biting? Any dog that has ANY known history of snapping will NOT be adopted to a family with children. But, understand that a dog may react to your environment differently and you must be prepared to deal with it (answer yes or no) |

| Why do you think you would make a good home for a rescue Lhasa:                                                                  |
| Tell us about the atmosphere in your home, such as: quiet, very active, lots of kids running in and out, travel frequently, etc. |

*PLEASE consider carefully whether you are willing to be flexible regarding these preferences. We find everyone wants a very young female, these are RARE in rescue. If you specify this, you probably won't be contacted. Unfortunately most people mistakenly believe that females are sweeter, this is not the case. In our experience males are often more affectionate and companionable. Lhasa's live very long lives - a 5 to 8 year old is still quite young for this breed. Neutered males are as easy to housetrain as females.

Read Carefully: Do you understand that it may cost as much as $1200 a year for grooming, routine veterinary visits, high quality food and supplements and non-routine veterinary visits. So please if you have any questions or concerns, email us. We want to make sure that our dogs and families are the best possible match for each other.

We will contact you as quickly as possible about your application, once we have received the Contract & Liability forms (please allow a week or two from the day you mailed them). Please consider that all of us are volunteers and have other jobs & responsibilities besides rescue work... we appreciate it if you remember this at all times during the application process. We get hundreds of emails and phone calls in a week regarding rescue, and work as hard as we can to respond as soon as we can.

By signing below you are agreeing to ALL of CMLAF/ALAC Rescue's adoption terms and rules for adoption through us. This is a legal and binding contract and may be used as such in a court of law.

You must circle one:

YES signifies that - I have located and read the Mission Statement/Volunteer Promise and the Policies and Guidelines of ALAC Rescue on the website. As an adopter - I understand and agree with your policies. As a Volunteer - I understand and agree to abide by all the stated policies and guidelines and to work to uphold the Mission Statement (I understand this is printed right on my copy of the application and is a legal binding agreement in a court of law).

OR

NO signifies that - I have not located and read the Mission Statement/Volunteer Promise and the Policies and Guidelines of ALAC Rescue on the website (answering no voids your application for adoption/volunteering).

I have read the adoption contract completely and understand how Lhasa Rescue expects for the adoptive dog to be maintained. If filling out to foster or volunteer, I understand the rules and guidelines I am expected to adhere to.
